Program Out for Fall Meet of Pedagogues

Dr. S. Parks Cadman is One of the Headliners for Sessions of Northwest District Teachers Next Month

Northwest Missouri teachers who attend the eighteenth annual convention of the Northwest Missouri Teachers Association at the College, October 17-18, will hear outstanding speakers, according to Mr. Bert Cooper, secretary of the association.

Mr. Cooper announces the 1935 program is complete, and will be one of the strongest in recent years. Several nationally known speakers have been booked.

Dr. S. Parks Cadman, former president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, pastor of Central Congregational church in Brooklyn, New York, and radio minister since 1928, will appear upon this year's program. Dr. Cadman has made many appearances over national broadcasting systems.

"Europe at the Cross-Roads," is the title of Dr. Cadman's discourse to be given Friday morning, October 18, at 9:30 o'clock. "The Outlook for Youth Today," is Dr. Cadman's topic before the elementary school section at 3:00 o'clock on Friday afternoon.

Dr. Albert Edward Wiggam of New York City, lecturer and writer, who was drafted to speak at the NEA in 1934, and who was the outstanding speaker at the last state teachers meeting, will be another featured speaker at the Maryville meeting. In 1923, when Mr. Wiggam published his "New Decalogue of Science," he sprang to fame as an interpreter of science, and as a social and political philosopher. "Let's Explore Your Mind," Mr. Wiggam's daily syndicated social science feature, appears in many city newspapers throughout the country, and reaches ten million people each day. Mr. Wiggam is also the author of "Exploring Your Mind with the Psychologists," "The Fruit of the Family Tree," "The Next Age of Man," "The Marks of an Educated Man," and "Marks of a Clean Mind."

"Who Shall Inherit America," is the subject upon which Mr. Wiggam will speak at 8:15 o'clock Thursday evening. "Clear Thinking—Our Salvation," will be Mr. Wiggam's 3:30 p. m. address to the college and high school joint session on Thursday.

Dr. Rollo Walter Brown, Cambridge, Mass., biography and fiction writer, is a third outstanding speaker to entertain the assembled teachers here for the two days of the meeting. Dr. Brown's volume of literary tradition in French education is accepted as authoritative in its field. In behalf of the creative spirit in American education and life, Dr. Brown is considered a pioneer.

"Do We Want Creative Minds in America," is the topic for Dr. Brown's first speech at 1:45 p. m., Thursday, October 17. "New Forms in Art—Do They Get Us Anywhere," will be Mr. Brown's topic at 3:20 p. m. Thursday.

Dr. Boyd H. Bode, one of the most humorous speakers in the field of education, has answered Mr. Cooper's invitation to be present to entertain the visiting teachers. Dr. Bode is from the Ohio State University at Columbus. "Education at the Cross-Roads" will be Dr. Bode's subject at 1:15 Friday afternoon. "The Use of Textbook" will be Dr. Bode's subject to the rural school section at 3:00 Friday afternoon.

Dr. I. E. Stutsman, superintendent of schools, St. Joseph, Missouri, will also appear upon the program. Mr. Stutsman is one of the outstanding authorities on public school education in the Middle-West today. "The Education" (Continued on page 8)

Schneider is Editor-In-Chief School Paper

Elinor Batt is Society Editor
J. O. King is Sports Editor and Densil Cooper is Feature Editor

Frederick Schneider, of Stanberry, was elected editor-in-chief of the NORTHWEST MISSOURIAN for the school year of 1935-36 by the Student Senate in a meeting held Wednesday night. Schneider acted as editor last year when Dwight Dalbey, Hepburn, Iowa, was out of town, and was one of the main contributors to THE MISSOURIAN. He is a sophomore.

Elinor Batt, a sophomore from Henderson, Texas, was chosen society editor for the newspaper. Justin O. King, Cameron, was placed in charge of the sports page. King is a veteran sports writer for THE MISSOURIAN and is correspondent for the St. Joseph Gazette and the Kansas City Journal Post.

Densil Cooper, Sheridan, who was a member of last year's Student Senate, a member of the debate team, and treasurer of Alpha Phi Sigma, was elected feature editor. He and King are seniors.

Miss Minnie James, of the commerce department, was re-elected sponsor of the Student Senate during the same meeting. The Social Committee appointed by the Senate consists of Rebecca Foley and Allen Kelso, freshmen; Gara Williams, Maryville, and Gory Wiggins, Princeton, sophomores; Elizabeth Adams, Mt. old Person, Maryville, seniors. Virgil Woodside, Independence, will be chairman.

C. F. Gray, Sheridan, and Warren Crow, Maryville, were chosen for the assembly committee.

Former Students Lapse from English

Miss Ramona Lair of the department of foreign languages received two letters last week from former students in the College—neither letter was written in English.

Miss Georgia Schulte, of the class of 1935, and at the present time secretary to the president of William Woods College, told Miss Lair of recent experiences in a letter written entirely in Spanish.

Miss Birdie Lemaster, of the class of 1932, who spent the past summer at Middlebury College in Vermont, wrote a letter in French. Miss Lemaster finished the examinations at Middlebury this summer and was among the honor students of that institution.

Both letters, according to Miss Lair, were written in very good style.

Men's Forum Has Program for 8 Weeks

C. Edwin Wells, College Librarian, is the President of Local Luncheon Club and Many of Faculty Belong

Maryville's Men's Forum, an organization composed of a group of business and professional men who meet each Monday noon for luncheon at the South Methodist Flats, has begun its fall work. At each meeting, a talk is given by one of the members, after which there is an open forum discussion.

Officers of the group are as follows: Mr. C. E. Wells, chairman; Rev. Willard Wickizer, vice-chairman; Mr. H. R. Dietrich, secretary-treasurer; Dr. O. Myking Mehue, Dr. Jesse Miller and Rev. V. C. Clark, program committee.

The first meeting of the year was held on Monday, September 9. Wilbur Stalcup, basketball coach of the College, gave a talk on "The Place of Athletics in Education." Monday, Sept. 16, Dr. F. R. Anthony, director of public health at the College, gave a talk on "The Place of Physical Education in the College Curriculum."

The program for the next eight weeks is as follows:

September 23, "The Hindu and the Hoodoo of Mathematics," Prof. Geo. H. Colbert, head of the department of mathematics of the College.

LUKE PALUMBO

All-state and all-conference center for the Bearcats, has been elected captain of the football team for the coming year.

Luke has been one of the outstanding linemen in the M.I.A.A. conference for the past three years. He is a graduate of Hubbard (Ohio) high school.

Hubert Garrett, social science department of the College.

Stalcup is Speaker at Rotary Meeting

Mr. Wilbur Stalcup of the men's physical education department talked to members of the Rotary Club at its regular weekly luncheon Wednesday, Sept. 18, at the country club.

Coach Stalcup talked on the subject of college athletics and the part it plays in any curriculum, stressing the point that on the athletic field or gymnasium floor certain things such as courage, co-operation, and quick thinking can be more easily taught than in the classroom.

Last Year Peru Was 7-0 Winner Over Home Team

Many Visitors Expected for Opener

The Maryville Bearcats open their football season with the strong Peru Bobcats tonight on the College field.

Many of the Bearcats will be facing a college opponent for the first time. The few lettermen with the aid of those men that saw action last season but did not letter will have to carry the burden. As yet it is unknown who will start the game for the Bearcats. However, when Captain Luke Palumbo leads his team onto the field tonight it is assured there will be several new faces among the starters.

Peru, Neb. Teachers will, as always, present a big powerful team. For the past several years Peru has played the Bearcats at the first of each season and Peru has always had a clean, hard, fighting eleven, with plenty of weight.

Peru defeated the Bearcats last year, scoring on the first play of the game. The remainder of the game was all Maryville, but the Bearcats failed to score, so the final score was Peru 7, Maryville 0.

Nothing has been heard concerning the strength of the Bobcats this season, but Coach Davis is sure that they will have one of the strongest teams that the Bearcats play this year.

With the graduation of seven of the 14 lettermen of last season and the loss of big Buford Jones, the Bearcats are faced with the tough assignment of filling several gaps that were taken care of last season. Fritz Cronkite, All-MIAA conference tackle will be missed in the line, as will Ernest Morrow who so ably took care of the other guard position for the Bearcats. Marvin Borgmier, the smallest man on the team for four years, will be missed in the back field. All the grads of last season will be missed but the wealth of freshman material, inexperienced as they are, should in some way partly cover these losses.

The probable line-up for the game: John Zuchowski and Wallace Hicks at ends; Krumbeck, Courter or Livingston at tackles; Rouse and Boatwright at guards; Palumbo at center, will make up the line. While in the backfield Rulon will probably be at quarterback, Good and Yates at halves, and Bernau at fullback. This line up is subject to change and may be entirely different from the starters tonight, but at the present these men look as if they may get the call.

Jim McClaren of Elmo, a former student of the College, is enrolled in his Junior year in the School of Dentistry of St. Louis University.

Know Your Team

LLOYD FLANDERS

Of the new Bearcats, there is no one who shows so well that he knows this business of football than does Lloyd "Horse" Flanders, a guard from Cameron, Missouri. Flanders played last year with the Cameron Junior College team, and was the outstanding performer. This year of junior college experience has stood him in very good stead, and has helped make him one of the best guards on the squad.

Flanders is a graduate of Cameron High School, where he lettered four years in football and three in track. He was captain both football and track last year and was all-conference player for three years. Lloyd stands 6 feet 11 inches tall and weighs 182 pounds. You will hear much of him this season.

J. C. FLANARY JR.

North Kansas City's contribution to the 1935 Bearcats is J. C. Flanary, lanky end who shows lots of ability in snagging passes. Flanary is 6 feet 3 inches tall and weighs 182 pounds. He is nineteen years old and this is his freshman year of college.

In high school, he made three letters each in football and track and made two letters in basketball. He was chosen an all-conference basketball man. In the State Interscholastic Track Meet this year, he placed fourth in the pole vault. Much is expected of Flanary this year. He should be one of the Green and White's best ends.

WALTER L. RULON

The only backfield man with the Bearcats who has earned two college letters in football is Walter "Krauthead" Rulon, shifty halfback from Shenandoah, Iowa. Playing his third season under the Green and White, Rulon should be a most valuable man to the team. He is a little boy, standing only 5 feet 8 inches tall, and weighing 166 pounds, but Walter has the speed and the fight necessary to make a star.

In the Shenandoah high school, Rulon earned four letters in football, basketball and track. Quite an achievement for any man! His last year in high school, he captained the basketball team. In college, he has lettered twice at his favorite event, the javelin throw, in addition to his football letter. He is the vice-president of the Junior Class.

HOWARD TOAY

Another Shenandoan in our midst is Howard Toay, center and guard. This 18-year-old freshman has shown well this year because of his willingness to work. Toay hasn't had an easy job on the team, but he has the stuff it takes to make ball players.

Toay is 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighs 166 pounds, and for a high school record he claims two letters in football and one in track. He captained the football team his senior year, and was twice chosen all-Southwest Iowa guard. A hard and serious worker, Toay is pretty sure to come through.

LYLE RHOADS

Shaking off the dust, which pretty well encompassed him last year, "Dusty" Rhoads is beginning a year of athletics that should be exceptionally bright. This Smithville boy who starred in high school in three sports did not report for football last year, but came out early this season, and has really made good. He will see a good deal of service at the half-back position this fall.

Rhoads won three high school letters in basketball, two each in football and track. His senior year, he captained both basketball and track teams. In the district track meet in Maryville in 1934, he was high point man of class B. He has one college track letter to his credit.

"Dusty" is not a big man. He is 5 feet 11½ inches tall and weighs 162 pounds. He is a sophomore scholastically.

...Tuberculosis...

Beginning with this article by Dr. George H. Hoxie of Kansas City, there will be a series of ten or more monthly discussions on tuberculosis written by specialists in the prevention and control of this disease in Missouri. These articles are non-technical and interesting. They are provided for this newspaper by the Missouri Tuberculosis Association.

Rarely do adults "take" consumption. This sounds like a radical state, but investigation will prove its truth. If its truth be granted, then it follows that tuberculosis is essentially a disease of childhood, and that if we are to knock the disease out, it must be by preventing the infection of children.

This brings up the subject of the two kinds of tuberculosis chiefly present in the United States: the one, the so-called consumption, or adult type of tuberculosis; and the other, the childhood, or primary disease. The two are quite different, both in their character and in their fatality. The adult type of the disease is secondary and not a primary disorder. Therefore, we expect to find that the people who break down with consumption in adult life are people who have had the childhood type of disease and have never quite gotten over it. They die of the disease in a large percentage of cases. On the other hand, those who take the childhood type recover in 90 percent of the cases.

It follows from these considerations that the first step toward the eradication of tuberculosis is to remove either the person sick with consumption from the family circle, or else remove the children from the family circle in order that they may not become infected, or if infected may not succumb to the disease. This requires state and municipal sanatoria. Missouri is still lacking about 1,000 of the beds needed for that purpose.

Another conclusion to be drawn from the facts presented is that children living in homes where there is tuberculosis should have thrown around them more protection than that of ordinary or normal children. This would mean that they have to have longer hours of rest; they have to have better and possibly more food; they have to give more attention to cleanliness, clothing and exhaustion. This protection is provided in the preventoria and also in those cities where it is possible for the school system to provide them, the open air rooms or schools.

Finally, a moment's reflection will show the prime necessity at the present time of locating the families in which tuberculosis is present. This is most easily done by giving children a skin test with tuberculin. This test, if positive, indicates that they are associated with the disease. It enables us to go back into these families and find the carriers, and if possible bring about a segregation of the disease.

The various tuberculosis societies in the state are trying to have such tests made on groups of children in their localities. Some times surveys of children in the schools are made; sometimes the tests are run in the families of those known to have tuberculosis; sometimes other groups are studied.

Apparently this case-finding is the most important objective at the present time and the one for which the Christmas Seal Sale should provide the revenue.

Every student in College high school is to have the tuberculin test this fall.

Mr. Stephen LaMar, formerly director of publicity of the College, now superintendent of schools at Bedford, Ia., is again connected with a school newspaper.

The Bedford high school, under Mr. LaMar's guidance, is publishing a weekly four page printed newspaper. There have already been two issues of the paper printed.

In quality of writing and in make-up, the Bedford "School Days" compares favorably with the weekly papers of many colleges.

Social dancing will be taught again this year; this time under the supervision of the women's physical education department. A charge of twenty-five cents will be made for the course. Class periods are on Monday night at 7:30 and on Tuesday from 4:00 to 5:30.

Virginia Judah of St. Joseph who has had five years training in dancing and has taught social dancing will teach the classes.

Mr. H. R. Dieterich, principal of the College high school, announces this week that the annual basketball tournament for outdoor teams will be held at the College on November 15 and 16.

The tournament, Mr. Dieterich announces, will be open to one team from each county in the Northwest Missouri district. Each county is to determine how its representative is to be chosen, whether by season's record or by tournament play.

Coach Wilbur Stalcup is the district manager of the tournament, and county managers will be appointed later to certify county representatives.

Mr. Stephen G. LaMar, superintendent of the Bedford Public Schools, and Mrs. LaMar were visiting in Maryville Thursday evening. Mr. LaMar reports that he has been plenty busy, and knowing him as we do, we realize the truthfulness of his statement.

Invite your dad to Dad's Day.

O'Neillian Dramatic Club In First Meet

The O'Neillian Dramatics Club held its first meeting of the year September 13 in Social Hall with an attendance of twenty-five.

The following officers were elected: president, Louise Bauer; vice-president, Frances Feurt; secretary-treasurer, Virginia Lee Danford; business manager, Carlyle Breckenridge; librarian, Betty Bosch; prompter, Buelah Frerichs; and reporter, Helen Ford.

Members of the club plan to attend several of the openings presented by the Little Theatre Guild of St. Joseph this winter. Plans are being made to put on a one-act play each month and to sponsor the fall quarter all-school play. There will also be light and make-up demonstrations given.

Organizations upon the campus will have an opportunity to appear before the student body when the annual organization assembly will be staged in the auditorium next Wednesday, October 2.

Dean Miller, president of the Student Senate, and Max Seyster, vice-president of the Senate, are in charge of the assembly. Every organization on the campus will participate in the annual affair, with the exception of the three religious organizations — the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., and the Newman Club—who will have charge of the assembly on Wednesday, October 23.

Following are the organizations who will participate in the assembly next Wednesday:

Dad's Day and Football With Bears Oct. 11

Plans Now Being Made for Big Annual Event When Springfield Contenders are Here for Big Game

Dad's Day is almost here! Why wait until the last moment to tell your Dad about it? For eight years it has been the custom of the College to set aside one day of the year in which students may entertain their Dads. It has been the tradition of the school to arrange to have that day when a good football game is scheduled.

Not that the football game is the only entertainment afforded, Dad! Far from it! Special assemblies, luncheons, athletic events, all serve to introduce the Dads into the whirl of college life of which their sons and daughters are a part. Above all, do not forget to urge your Dad to attend some of the classes, for they are the most important part of college life.

This custom of honoring the fathers of the students is practiced in most of the colleges and universities of the country. Faculty and students cooperate in making the Dads feel at home on the campus. This year Dad's day comes on October 11.

Tickets for the luncheon and the football game must be secured by Monday, October 7. Write to Dad today! He would enjoy the football game with Springfield and would like to get acquainted with the activities in which you are interested.

Each organization on the campus has been asked to select two members to act on the committee preparing for Dad's day. For seven years Dr. O. Myking Mehus has been chairman of the Dad's day committee. Students representing campus organizations at the Wednesday meeting of the committee were: Veryl Humphrey, Helen Leet, Barkatze; Lester R. Stanley, Harl Holt, Social Science Club; Thelma Patrick, Monica Lash, O'Neilians; Jack Alsbaugh, Raymond Harris, Edwin Tyson, YMCA; Virginia Lee Danford, Louise Gutting, Sigma Sigma Sigma; Marvin Steinmetz, R. T. Sidener, Newman Club; and Warren Crow, Pi Gamma Mu.

Faculty and students appointed to serve on the committee for the ten o'clock assembly are: Chairman, Louise Gutting, Miss Grace Shepherd, Miss Katherine Helwig, Marvin Steinmetz, Veryl Humphrey, Lester R. Stanley, and Thelma Patrick.

Those appointed to serve on the luncheon committee are: Chairman, Helen Leet, Miss Margaret Stephenson, Dr. Henry Alexander, Miss Elizabeth White, Harl Holt and Raymond Harris. The committee selected to attend to the afternoon and evening entertainment are: Chairman, Virginia Lee Danford, Mr. W. T. Garrett, Mr. Hugh G. Wales, Miss Minnie B. James, Mr. Leslie G. Somerville, Warren Crow, Edwin Tyson, R. T. Sidener, Monica Lash, and Jack Alsbaugh.

Miss Stephenson In Address to Women

Members of the College Young Women's Christian Association held their first meeting of the year last Tuesday afternoon in Recreation Hall.

Esthel Dack was in charge of the devotional meeting, and Martha Mae Holmes and Marjorie Murray were in charge of the musical part of the meeting. Miss Margaret Stephenson, director of activities for women of the College, spoke to the group on "Life Begins—Now."

Miss Stephenson, in the course of her speech, said "Life begins not at 40 nor at commencement time, but now." Freshmen are results of family and school backgrounds, but when they come to college, all of this environment changes, Miss Stephenson pointed out.

Miss Stephenson also pointed out that some of the ideas and habits of students are assets, while some are liabilities. It's time to grow up, and cast off certain childish habits, Miss Stephenson continued.

One test of whether or not freshmen have become College students are their attitudes toward the college curriculum. If he's interested in snap courses, and in "just getting by," he hasn't changed from his high school attitudes, Miss Stephenson assured the assembly. Merely repeating the professors' words without any thinking on the part of the student is additional proof that the student has not "grown up." College students think, Miss Stephenson told the group.

Miss Stephenson continued by advising the College women to plan their social life, as, for example, the choosing of activities that will mean something to the student when he leaves school.

Views of the News

By EUGENE HUFF

U. S. and War

Walter D. Mullin, Secretary for the National Council for Prevention of War, has been touring the country making speeches to laborers. "If Italy and Ethiopia go to war," he says, "The United States can not possibly stay out of it unless our neutrality policy is changed. The United States is the only country able to finance a war today and if we did it would mean in the end that we would be forced into it."

The big question is whether the American people will allow themselves to be influenced by propaganda.

The Constitution

Constitution day has passed and differences of opinion have been flying in all directions. But there is one basic fact that should be considered. With all the altruistic idealisms that have floated thru the air none of them sprang purely from the heart but from the stomach and the brain. One group who wants to change the constitution is represented by those people who need work as a means of livelihood. They are called radicals. Those in the other group are those who are brainy enough to have amassed their fortunes in life and are unwilling to change the status quo for fear of losing their economic power. The sooner the constitution is discussed from an economic point of view and not an altruistic standpoint the quicker the real issues can be defined.

War a Racket

Major General Smedley D. Butler, who has been prominent in American Army circles and who, about a year ago was called upon by some Wall Street brokers to organize an army and march on Washington, expressed his sentiments of war on Constitution Day in New Orleans where he spoke before the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Said Mr. Butler, "Every war from the time of the landing of the Pilgrims has been fought because somebody wanted to make something out of it, and somebody always did. All wars are started by profiteers. Soldiers are a lot of trusting dummies," Butler continued. "The believe the truth is mighty and shall prevail. But look at me. I know what I am talking about. I was the greatest bill collector Wall Street ever sent into the Central American republics, using my marines to collect, taking orders direct not from Washington, but from Wall Street."

Today and Yesterday

Times change. Years ago wars were fought for the purpose of plundering the conquered and consuming their goods. Now wars are fought for the purpose of making the conquered not only keep his goods out of our shores but to make him use ours. Such is the difference between an Age of Scarcity and an Age of Plenty.

Beginnings In Art Instruction

"But I can't even draw a straight line!" is the common confession of most of the students who enroll for Art 11, and consequently they enter into the course half expecting to lose their hours of credit just on this account. But perhaps it's just as well they "can't draw a straight line." Special talent is not required at all. The subject matter builds up logically in sequence from one problem to another so that even those students who knew nothing of art to begin with leave the course of study feeling much better acquainted with the principles of design and drawing, and the teaching of art.

Those who do not know just what is taught in Art 11 will find the answer in the exhibit that is on display this week in the show-case on second floor. The examples used belong to Louise Bauer who took the course last spring and whose notebook Miss DeLuce found available.

Miss DeLuce has a two-fold purpose in the teaching of Art 11. The first is to introduce the student to the subject matter, and the second is to fulfill the requirements of the state certificate. This means that the work is so planned that the students are able to teach art according to the state requirements. They learn to work with pencil, water color, pen and cut paper. Their main problems are poster-making, selection of colors for dress and home, making of border and surface designs to be applied, and drawing from objects.

The principles of dominance, color combination and design as illustrated in the surface designs, and drawing are all applied in the portfolio cover, one of the final projects of the course. The importance of color in interior decoration is illustrated by the plans made out for rooms both with and without sunlight. Another application of the principles of art are so presented that the student gains ability to choose

Vocal Try-outs

The music department under the direction of Mr. LaVerne Irvine is conducting tryouts for men and women quartets and octettes. These groups will be chosen from all four classes.

A recent and worthy project of the Federated Women's Club at Eagleville has been to furnish the school children there with copies of the pictures suggested in the state course of art study. Besides doing this, the club has subscribed to an art magazine to be donated to the school, and also intends to place books on the subject of art in the library.

Fair Popular With College Students

Many students of the College have been taking time off this week from the routine of college activities to attend the annual Fall Festival being held in the business district of Maryville.

The State Highway Commission's special safety exhibit located in the Holt building is drawing many of the students. This exhibit comes directly from the Missouri State Fair and is educational in nature.

The township, general, livestock, and agricultural exhibits found on the north side of the square are also attracting large numbers of students.

The large program of free acts, presented twice daily, has proved entertaining. This program consists of tumbling, trapeze, comedy and bicycle acts, in addition to band music and special features.

For those who wish more in the way of entertainment, there are the ten rides, eleven shows, and forty concessions covering four blocks of the downtown section. Freshmen, upper-classmen, and faculty members alike are enticed by the ballyhoo of the barkers.

One Year,—$1.00 One Quarter,—25c

Advertising Rates Quoted on Request.

THIS $17.50

Students who pay $17.50 at the beginning of each quarter, often do not stop to think what they receive in return for that expenditure.

Well, what does this $17.50 go for? In the first place, when the $17.50 is paid, students receive a little ticket—this quarter it's green—which they are supposed to keep for the entire quarter.

Of what good is the little ticket? It makes possible the safekeeping of the student's personal belongings while he is in school by providing for a locker. Every person who has a green ticket receives an individual locker key, and this safekeeping alone is worth more than the price of the ticket.

The two College publications are furnished to students possessing these activity cards. THE NORTHWEST MISSOURIAN, the weekly College newspaper which carries the news of the school, and which also displays advertisements of the best business firms in Maryville, is furnished students who have these tickets. The Tower, College yearbook, which will be off the press in the Spring, contains pictures and descriptions which students will cherish long after commencement day. Each activity card entitles the student to one-fourth of the price of the annual.

Also, a student possessing an activity card will be admitted to College athletic events played at home for that respective quarter. With this convenience, College men and women do not have to worry about the question: "Where will I get the money for Friday night's game?"

Two entertainments are brought to the College each quarter, known as the minor and major entertainments, and students are admitted to these upon presentation of their activity tickets.

Then, in case of illness, the activity card will be accepted as payment for a room in the St. Francis hospital during the time between the opening day and closing day of the term for which the card is issued as the owner is a patient in the hospital. Of course, we hope nothing of the kind happens, but it does make one feel more comfortable to know that such hospitalization is obtainable with one of these little activity cards.

Frankly, now, is this not worth much more than the price of the little activity card—a mere $17.50.

"BUTTON, FRESHMAN"

The old familiar custom of initiating the freshmen into the College has begun for this year, and everywhere one may see the first-year boys wearing green caps with little white buttons on top. Every now and then one sees the new College students bending low in recognition to an upperclassman's command of "Button, freshman."

In the preceding paragraph, we mentioned the initiation of freshmen into the College, but, if we may say it, the initiation is nothing more nor less than a welcome to our Alma Mater. It will be noticed that no other class members in school receive as much recognition during the year as the members of the freshman class.

For example; when someone you don't know passes you on the street bareheaded, you don't know if he is a sophomore, junior, or senior. But, if a rather shy (and maybe not so shy) looking soul should pass you on the street and he had, sur le tete, a little green cap with a white button atop, you would feel pretty sure that you knew to which class he belonged.

Don't be ashamed or afraid, freshmen, to answer an upperclassman's call of "Button, freshman"—it won't hurt you, and in fact, it may be better for you that you did bow in recognition. Remember, just about every student on this campus has had to bow, at one time or another, to the "command" of a worthy upperclassman.

So just remember, our freshman friends, to answer the call of "Button, freshman," and wear the green head-gear as a symbol showing that 350 upperclassmen in this institution are welcoming you here in a very exclusive manner.

GET BEHIND YOUR TEAM

Tonight the teachers from out Peru, Nebraska, way invade the den of the brave Green and White Bearcats to commence the grid season for 1935 on the Maryville campus. Since two weeks before school started, coaches Davis and Stalcup have been training the Bearcats, and after due consideration, the mentors have decided to loosen the 'Cat upon the battle-ground to bring back a "dish" which will enlighten the hearts of over seven hundred faithful followers.

Since two weeks ago last Wednesday, passers-by along the outskirts of the battle-ground have noticed increased action on the part of the Bearcats, and they have suspected that all of this barking of numbers, charging of lines, and throwing of footballs, will not have been done in vain.

Everyone of these passers-by have forgotten, more or less, the crack of the bat, and now have their interests centered on their colleagues who will trot out on the battle-ground tonight. But why shouldn't they forget baseball, for who of us are not more interested in the Maryville Bearcats than in the Chicago Cubs or the Detroit Tigers? Anyhow, it's time to be thinking of the 'Cat's fate in the MIAA race.

And now—it's the same old story—let's all sit in the east bleachers and help the cheer leaders urge those 'Cats to victory. Seven hundred boosters on the east bleachers should raise enough racket to make the Bearcats snarl, grit their teeth, and bring back that favorite "dish." So let's forget scholastic cares and be out there on the battle ground tonight—700 strong—and show those boys we're behind them!

GO TO IT, BEARCATS!

KEEP OFF THE GRASS

In the assembly this week, President Uel W. Lamkin told of his plan to further beautify the campus—the plan being to do away with the ugly fences on the campus. Fences around the gymnasium were the ones especially mentioned.

The purpose of the fences is to keep cars and people on the path, instead of letting them drive or walk on the grass. If everyone will keep the promise given in assembly Wednesday morning, it seems that there will be no necessity for keeping the fences on the campus.

What I Would Like to See In New York

I want to visit New York, not Jimmie Walker's tinsel city, nor Odd McIntyre's merry-go-round of celebrities, but Walt Whitman's Manhattan, and Max Miller's.

I don't care about Dinty Moore, nor Hattie Carnegie, nor Broadway, nor the Empire State Building, but I do care about the rather mad crowd of the subway and the elevated, and I want to be part of the crowd, just once. I want to sit, in the balcony or on the stair—it doesn't matter, at the Metropolitan, to hear Lily Pons and Tibbett and Grace Moore. I want to walk along the waterfront at night, and become intimate with the Atlantic, and smell salt air and oil from engines, and hear a fog horn from a tramp steamer. I want to eat peanuts in Central Park. I want to walk into the office of a popular magazine, to thank a certain editor for surpassingly gentle rejections. I want to ride the ferry to Jersey, with the wind sharp in my face. I want to stand on the dock when a great ship sails for Southampton, or Gibraltar, or Paradise; I want to mingle with the crowds; wave my handkerchief to the passengers; cry because sailings are sad, for you may never know what it is like. I want to walk around Columbia University, nonchalantly, as tho I were already a student there. I want to see the melancholy brownstone houses at Fifty-sixth Street or thereabouts, and I want to meet a landlady, the sort who appropriates trunks and knows her rights. I want to have lunch at the Automat. I want to look down at the Hudson River from the roof of a tenement. I want to stand spelling out the words on the electric sign in Times Square. I want to ride on top of the Fifth Avenue bus, without a hat. I want to go backstage at the Shubert. I want to see the Statue of Liberty from a tugboat, in brilliant sunlight. I want to talk with somebody foreign and strange on Ellis Island, somebody just arrived from someplace far distant, and ask what America is like. I want to see a sob sister. I want to buy a guitar in a Tenth Avenue pawn shop. I want to buy old books in a dim, old book shop.

I want to look at the faces of people in the streets, the harassed, the preoccupied, the smiling, the mysterious, wonderful faces of common people. And when I have done these things I shall have no curiosity about Wanamaker's, the Scandals, the tall buildings. But I shall have seen New York.

The above Essay was written by Sylva Goodman of 2011 Sturtevant Street, Detroit, Michigan, winner of the first prize in the essay contest sponsored by the Panhellenic House Association, Beekman Tower and Courier Service of New York City.

College Pictorial Given Each Week

A regular pictorial review of the news of the college world will be featured each week in The Collegiate Digest section of The Northwest Missourian, the first issue of which appears with this edition of paper.

Featuring exclusive lively features written especially for its wide collegiate audience in addition to the regular news of the week "in picture and paragraph," Collegiate Digest brings to the readers of The Northwest Missourian the most complete pictorial review of college news available.

A new and outstanding feature of the issues this year will be the unusual Speed Graph photos taken with the "Magic Eye" camera and depicting the continuous motions of athletes in action. The remarkable photos have been made possible recently by the invention of a camera which "stops" the various movements of people in action.

Then, too, Collegiate Digest will continue in The Spotlighter, its bright and lively stories of the great and near great who graduated from or attended college. The first issue features the biography of America's greatest humorist, Will Rogers, presenting many heretofore unpublished facts about his life.

Students of the College are urged to send photos to the editor of Collegiate Digest at P. O. Box 472, Madison, Wis. Regular newspaper rates are paid for all photos accepted for publication.

The Missouri Miner, the college paper of the Missouri School of Mines, says, "It is admitted that the Miners will be stronger than last year, and will not have as tough a schedule as last year." All of which is true—60 men have reported to practice and 18 lettermen are among them; so my dope would be to watch out for those Miners. They will be near the top.

Springfield seems to have more power than is usual at the Southwest Missouri Teachers College, and 22 of those members of the squad are lettermen. Well, power to you Bears! Springfield opens its season today with the Miami, Okla., Junior College.

Warrensburg is waiting for Oct. 5 when they open their regular schedule with the University of Missouri.

Maybe the addition of a new coach and the addition of several new men to their squad will bring the Mules out of the basement and put them up into the running for conference honors. However, it is rumored the Mules will not fin-group last Thursday evening. Jimmie Stephenson, junior, was elected vice-president of the squad, and Eunice Scott was elected secretary-treasurer.

Marian Maloy, junior, was elected president of the Green and White Peppers, women's pep squad, at a meeting of that organization last Tuesday evening. Nell Kellogg, junior, received the most votes for office of secretary-treasurer, and Doris Logan, senior, was elected captain.

H. S. Basketball

Mynatt Breidenthal, Bethany, and Charles Wiles ran off the crowd in the Freshman primary election for president.

In the vice-president primary race there were only 9 votes difference in the first three candidates. Bernau led with a 76, and McIntosh trailed with a 68. Seals either had a 67 or a 69, a recount being made when this story went to press.

Clarence Stark and Virginia Sifers stood out in the race for the office of the secretary-treasurer of the Freshman class.

Lorace Catterson, Maryville, was elected to represent the juniors in the Student Senate for the short term.

Many students have remarked during the last week upon the unusual brightness of the moon. Perhaps you, too, noticed it.

The moon this week was actually twenty-five per cent brighter than it has been for fifty years.

A news item brought to the Astronomy class by Luke Palumbo, quoted Dr. Showalter, reliable astronomy instructor, as saying that the moon was in perigy and that the same brightness will not again be possible for many years.

Miss Helwig explained to the class when the moon is in its closest to the earth. It and moon travelled in perfect circles the position of the moon and the earth in their paths would make no difference, but, since they do not, there comes a time when the moon approaches closer to the earth and more light is reflected.

Announcements

Students who have not yet made their appointments for physical examinations by Dr. Anthony, College physician, are urged to do so immediately. Men make their appointments through Mr. Hugh Wales, Director of Men's Activities, in the Information office. Appointments for women students are made in the office of Miss Margaert Stephenson, Director of Women's Activities.

Members of Varsity Villagers, an organization that includes all college women living off the campus, who have not already paid the organization's dues of thirty-five cents are asked to pay them in Miss Margaret Stephenson's office.

Give Program at First M. E. Church

The YMCA and the YWCA gave a program last Sunday night at the First Methodist Church. This was the first time in the history of the two organizations that they have conducted a joint devotional service.

Harry Lyle spoke on the subject of "Victory in Defeat" and Densil Cooper discussed the question of "Marriage and Divorce."

Virgil Woodside, Morris Yaden, Robert Lawrence and William Somerville, who compose the college quartet, sang, "I Got Shoes" a negro spiritual, and "God Ever Glorious," old choral. Mynant Breidenthal played a trombone solo "Ave Maria." Aletha Burnham played a violin solo, "Meditation" by Massavat. Martha Mae Holmes sang a vocal solo, "Prayer Perfect."

Alex Sawyers, President of the YMCA, presided over the devotional services. Eleanor Batt read the scripture and Leland Thornhill and Betty Noblet were devotional leaders.

Dr. H. G. Dildine, of the Department of the Social Sciences and a member of the YMCA Advisory Board, introduced the college group. More than thirty members of the two organizations took part in the program that was presented before a large congregation.

Katherine Keefe, who attended the College last year as a freshman, is enrolled this year in the Minot State Teachers College at Minot, North Dakota.

We have on hand at all times for CHESTERFIELD cigarettes upwards of 350,000 bales of Turkish tobacco...

The pleasing aroma and flavor of Turkish tobacco is almost necessary if you want a good cigarette.

Turkish tobacco is more costly when you take into account that you have to pay 35c a pound duty, but we have to have it to blend with our mild ripe home-grown tobaccos.

It helps make Chesterfields milder, it helps give them better taste. Just try them.
